I understand that participating in Louis-Philippe Desjardins' CSA involves risks related to the availability and quantity of produce in each weekly basket. Louis-Philippe, with 15 years of farming experience, aims to provide more than the amount purchased, but in case of catastrophic events, losses are not refunded; this is at the essence of the Community Supported Agriculture CSA Model. Greenhouse cultivation is used to minimize risks from extreme weather, but I agree to participate at my own risk regarding the consistency and volume of produce.

I also consent to making my own arrangements to pick up my vegetables at the agreed delivery location. I acknowledge that refunds are possible within 30 days of signing up for the program.

- ☐ Louis will allow clients one week bonus (week 13), allowing them to miss one week of delivery at no penalty.
- ☐ I have read, understood, and agree to the terms above.

Note: This agreement will only be formalized once I have verbally agreed on delivery arrangements with Louis-Philippe Desjardins.

About Louis

I'm a family man, entrepreneur, and passionate about local, healthy food. I'm pragmatic and bold, aiming to change the world through action, which has been challenging. I'm convinced 2025 will mark the success of this decade-long quest. This summer, I plan to have young people work and learn with me while expanding community outreach.

How it works

- You pay in advance for part of the expected harvest. Farmers give you their best produce first. Louis delivers weekly to the set spot. You agree to collect your share each week. If you miss a week, Louis offers an extra one!
